Lead Your Future Forward

Professional Readiness Programme (PRP)

Career development at S P Jain London School of Management is purposeful and strategically designed. Through our Professional Readiness Programme (PRP), students gain a distinct competitive edge with:

- Career coaching and goal setting support
- Cultural fluency training to adapt to the British workplace
- Mock interviews, technical assessments and CV workshops
- AI-powered Interview simulations, tailored to specific roles and companies

This is complemented by dedicated guidance from our Corporate Relations team, who work closely with students to shape career pathways and connect them with meaningful internship and placement opportunities.

Internships Overview

Students at S P Jain London School of Management actively pursue internships across the UK, Dubai, India and other global markets through student-led applications, employer partnerships, alumni networks, and opportunities facilitated by the Corporate Relations and Careers team. While outcomes vary based on factors such as role, location, student profile, and visa status, many students secure paid, project-based, or part-time internships aligned with their academic specialisation.

"What stood out most for me was the level of support we received. The faculty were not only knowledgeable but genuinely invested in our success. The Professional Readiness Programme (PRP) was especially valuable, with mock interviews, technical quizzes, and industry- focused seminars that sharpened our professional toolkit and prepared us for the job market. We also had access to both a dedicated career coach and a corporate relations manager who offered tailored guidance based on our individual backgrounds and aspirations.

Another major strength of the programme was the network it opened up. Through S P Jain's industry connections and carefully curated events, we had the chance to meet alumni and professionals working in leadership roles across a variety of sectors.

It was through one of these connections that the internship opportunity with Genpact emerged. The process was well supported throughout—the school maintained close coordination with the company, and we were kept informed every step of the way."

Corporate Engagement & Industry Exposure

Industry engagement is an integral part of the S P Jain London School of Management learning experience. Students interact regularly with employers, alumni, founders and industry leaders through guest lectures, company visits, networking events and career-focused workshops. Integrated throughout the academic journey, these experiences provide valuable exposure to real-world business environments, emerging industry trends and global career opportunities.

Industry Engagement Highlights (2025)

GUEST SPEAKERS

STREET BOX

StreetBox - In the Founder-led Enterprise challenge, students tackled a live business challenge set by StreetBox (UK-based start-up disrupting the supply-chain process within the food delivery space), pitching solutions directly to the Founder while building commercial thinking, teamwork and presentation skills.

CIL STRATEGY CONSULTANTS

CIL Management Consulting - A Partner from CIL Management Consultants led a careers-focused consulting session, sharing practical insights on career transitions, case study preparation and the skills valued by consulting firms.

TH3RDCURVE

Th3rdCurve Consulting - The Founder and CEO of Th3rdCurve Consulting delivered an interactive guest session connecting digital marketing theory to real client projects, with ongoing project-based work experience opportunities for students.

ORACLE

Oracle - A former Oracle executive delivered an engaging session on business transformation and supply chain innovation. The discussion highlighted how global events such as Brexit and Covid reshaped supply chain priorities, and how organisations now approach resilience, technology adoption and strategic planning in this space.

Pivot into a New Industry or Role

Industry Engagement Highlights (2025)

VISA

Visa - A guest speaker from Visa explored the impact of AI and digital transformation in global banking and payments, highlighting real-world applications and emerging career opportunities in the sector.

SEEKING ALPHA

Seeking Alpha - A guest speaker from Seeking Alpha introduced students to quantitative analysis and data-driven investment research, highlighting the analytical skills required for careers in finance and market research.

INDUSTRY VISITS

S P Jain London students regularly participate in structured industry visits designed to deepen their understanding of how organisations operate, scale and compete.

- MONZO A visit to Monzo, one of the UK's leading disruptor digital banks, gave students direct insight into digital banking, growth strategy, European expansion and the regulatory landscape through sessions with senior leadership and an interactive office tour.
- HSBC An alumni-led visit to HSBC gave students insight into global banking careers, early talent programmes, internal mobility and the corporate working environment.
- LEVEL39 A visit to Level39, Europe's largest fintech and cybersecurity accelerator, exposed students to fintech innovation, startup ecosystems and how companies develop, fund and scale financial technology solutions.
- STANDARD CHARTERED A careers workshop led by an Executive Director in Treasury provided students with practical guidance on CV building, interview preparation and navigating competitive recruitment processes.

The above are the examples of industry visits undertaken by previous S P Jain London students. Industry visits, companies and opportunities may vary by intake and are not guaranteed for future cohorts.

"Choosing SP Jain London School of Management was a turning point in my professional journey, helping me transition from investment banking and consulting into risk and advisory consulting. During my studies, I secured an internship with Genpact UK, where I worked on projects involving GenAI risk frameworks, Basel 3.1 assessments, and AI model validation, which later led to a full-time role. SPJ London's strong industry integration, personalised mentoring, career coaching, and practical learning environment played a vital role in rebuilding my confidence and sharpening my consulting and leadership skills. Today, I continue my journey in London as a Lead Associate Consultant at Genpact, reflecting on how this transformation began at SPJ London."

"Interning at IBS Intelligence was a transformative leap from curiosity to confidence. Coming from a business and finance background, I stepped into the fintech world with little experience but a strong desire to learn, and this internship challenged and empowered me at every turn. I was immersed in real-world projects from day one. Presenting a case study that shaped actual conversations within the team was a defining movement. Thanks to S P Jain London's support, this experience sparked a genuine passion for innovation and solidified my ambition to grow in this space."
